

Student Presentation Background Information

This sheet is due one week before your presentation. Include good quality copies of all papers listed in part 2.

1. What is your name? What is the title of your presentation?

2. What are the titles of the papers you will be presenting? How are these papers related?

3. How will you introduce your topic? Suggestion: reference a section in Campbell or other general text.

4. What question do your data address? Why is it important?

5. Which experiments will you present? Attach additional sheets if necessary.

6. What are your conclusions based on the experiments from part 5?

7. Do you feel adequately prepared to present background, research questions, methods, results and conclusions for this work? If not where do you need help and what are you doing about it?
